Well-being of Future Generations (Wales) Bill

[AS INTRODUCED]

An Act of the National Assembly for Wales about how public bodies are organised to improve well-being in accordance with the sustainable development principle.

Having been passed by the National Assembly for Wales and having received the assent of Her Majesty, it is enacted as follows:

PART 1

INTRODUCTION AND KEY CONCEPTS

1 Purpose of this Act

The general purpose of this Act is to ensure that the governance arrangements of public bodies for improving the well-being of Wales take the needs of future generations into account.

2 Aim of public bodies to improve well-being

The aim of public bodies is to improve the economic, social and environmental well-being of Wales in accordance with the sustainable development principle (the “common aim”).

3 Sustainable development principle

Improving well-being in accordance with the sustainable development principle means seeking to ensure that the needs of the present are met without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs.

4 Overview

(1) This section is an overview of the main provisions of the Act.

(2) Part 2 of this Act—

(a) sets well-being goals for the pursuit of the common aim of public bodies (section 6);

(b) requires the bodies to set well-being objectives that are to contribute to the achievement of the well-being goals (section 7);

(c) requires the bodies to set and seek to meet their well-being objectives in accordance with the sustainable development principle, which includes further provision about how the principle is to be applied to the objectives (section 8);
(d) requires indicators that measure progress towards achieving the well-being goals (section 11, and reports on future trends in the well-being of Wales (section 12), to be published by the Welsh Ministers;

(e) requires the bodies to report annually on their progress towards meeting their well-being objectives (sections 13 and 14 and Schedule 1).

(3) Part 3 of this Act—
(a) establishes the office of Future Generations Commissioner for Wales (section 16 and Schedule 2);
(b) provides for the Commissioner to promote the needs of future generations by monitoring and reporting on the extent to which the public bodies are setting and seeking to meet their well-being objectives in accordance with the sustainable development principle (section 17);
(c) establishes a panel of advisers to the Commissioner (sections 24 to 26).

(4) Part 4 of this Act—
(a) establishes a public services board for each local authority area in Wales and sets out who else a board may work with (Chapter 1);
(b) states the aim of the boards and requires them to publish local well-being plans setting out how each board is to pursue that local aim, and thereby contribute within its area to the pursuit of the common aim (Chapter 2, section 34);
(c) provides that local well-being plans must include objectives that are designed to maximise each board’s contribution (within its area) to the achievement of the well-being goals (Chapter 2, sections 34 and 37);
(d) provides that each board must set and seek to meet their objectives in accordance with the sustainable development principle, which includes further provision about how the principle is to be applied to the board’s objectives (Chapter 2, sections 37 and 38);
(e) makes specific provision about how local well-being plans apply to community councils and how, in that way, a community council may contribute to the local aim of the public services board in its area (Chapter 2, section 39);
(f) provides for boards to merge or otherwise collaborate (Chapter 3).

5 Meaning of “public body”
(1) For the purposes of this Part and Parts 2 and 3 of this Act, each of the following persons is a “public body” —
(a) the Welsh Ministers;
(b) a local authority;
(c) a Local Health Board;
(d) the following NHS Trusts—
   (i) Public Health Wales;
   (ii) Velindre;
(e) a National Park authority for a National Park in Wales;
(f) a Welsh fire and rescue authority;

(j) the Sports Council for Wales;
(k) the National Library of Wales;
(l) the National Museum of Wales.

(2) Section 51 enables the Welsh Ministers to amend the meaning of a “public body”.

(3) Chapter 1 of Part 4 provides for persons who are listed as public bodies in subsection (1) (as well as certain other persons who exercise functions of a public nature) to be either members, invited participants or other partners of the public services boards established under that Part.

PART 2

IMPROVING WELL-BEING

Well-being goals

(1) Each public body is to pursue the common aim by seeking to achieve the well-being goals listed and described in Table 1—

<tr>

<th>Description of the goal</th>

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A prosperous Wales.</td>
<td>An innovative and productive, low carbon emission, economy that makes more efficient and proportionate use of resources; and which generates wealth and provides employment opportunities for a skilled and well-educated population.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A resilient Wales.</td>
<td>A biodiverse natural environment with healthy functioning ecosystems that support social, economic and ecological resilience and the capacity to adapt to change.</td>

</tbody>
</table>
A healthier Wales. A society in which people’s physical and mental well-being is maximised and in which choices and behaviours that benefit future health are understood.

A more equal Wales. A society that enables people to fulfil their potential no matter what their background or circumstances.

A Wales of cohesive communities. Attractive, viable, safe and well-connected communities.

A Wales of vibrant culture and thriving Welsh language. A society that promotes and protects culture, heritage and the Welsh language, and which encourages people to participate in the arts, and sports and recreation.

(2) In seeking to achieve each of the well-being goals, a public body must take into account each of the three aspects of well-being contained in the common aim.

(3) The Welsh Ministers may by regulations amend subsection (1) by—
   (a) adding a goal,
   (b) removing a goal, or
   (c) amending the title or description of a goal.

(4) Before making regulations under subsection (3), the Welsh Ministers must consult—
   (a) the Commissioner;
   (b) the other public bodies;
   (c) such other persons as the Welsh Ministers consider appropriate.

Well-being objectives and duty on public bodies

(1) Each public body must set and publish objectives (“well-being objectives”) that are designed to maximise its contribution to the achievement of the well-being goals.

(2) When publishing the well-being objectives (including well-being objectives revised under section 9 or 10) a public body must also publish a statement—
   (a) explaining why the body considers that meeting the objectives will contribute to the achievement of the well-being goals;
   (b) specifying what actions the body proposes to take to meet the objectives;
   (c) explaining how those actions are intended to lead to the objectives being met;
(d) specifying the periods of time within which the body expects to meet the objectives;
(e) providing such other information as the body considers appropriate about taking the actions and meeting the objectives.

(3) A public body that exercises functions in relation to the whole of Wales may set objectives relating to Wales or any part of Wales.

(4) A public body that exercises functions in relation only to a part of Wales may set objectives relating to that part or any part of it.

(5) The well-being objectives of a public body that is also a member of a public services board may be included in that board’s local well-being plan (see Chapters 1 and 2 of Part 4).

8 Setting and meeting well-being objectives: sustainable development principle

(1) A public body must—
   (a) set well-being objectives under section 7(1) in accordance with the sustainable development principle, and
   (b) take all reasonable steps (in exercising its functions) to meet those objectives in accordance with the sustainable development principle.

(2) Applying the sustainable development principle to setting and taking steps to meet the objectives requires a public body to take into account—
   (a) the importance of balancing short term needs with the need to safeguard the ability to meet long term needs, especially where things done to meet short term needs may have detrimental long term effect;
   (b) the benefits of taking an integrated approach, by considering how—
      (i) an objective may impact upon each of the well-being goals and the three aspects of well-being contained in the common aim;
      (ii) the body’s objectives impact upon each other or upon other public bodies’ objectives, in particular where steps taken by the body may contribute to meeting one objective but may be detrimental to meeting another;
   (c) the importance of involving those with an interest in the objectives, by seeking their views and taking them into account;
   (d) how acting in collaboration with any other person (or how different parts of the body acting together) could assist the body to meet its objectives, or assist another body to meet its objectives;
   (e) how deploying resources to prevent problems occurring or getting worse may contribute to meeting the body’s objectives, or another body’s objectives.

(3) A statement published under section 7(2) must also include provision setting out—
   (a) how the public body considers it has fulfilled its duty under paragraph (a) of subsection (1), and
(b) how the public body proposes to fulfil its duty under paragraph (b) of subsection (1); including how it proposes to govern itself, keep the duty under review and ensure that resources are allocated annually for the purpose of fulfilling the duty.

9 Welsh Ministers’ well-being objectives

(1) The Welsh Ministers’ well-being objectives must be set and published—

(a) beginning with the day specified for that purpose in the statement published under section 7(2), and

(b) ending with the day of the next ordinary general election under section 3 of the Government of Wales Act 2006 (c.32).

(3) If the well-being goals are amended, the Welsh Ministers must review their well-being objectives.

(4) If, on a review under subsection (3), the Welsh Ministers determine that one or more of their well-being objectives are no longer appropriate, they must revise the objective or objectives concerned.

(5) The Welsh Ministers may at any other time review and revise their well-being objectives.

(6) Well-being objectives revised under subsection (4) or (5) must be set for the remainder of the period referred to in subsection (2).

34 Aim of public services boards

(1) The aim of each public services board is to improve the economic, social and environmental well-being of its area in accordance with the sustainable development principle (the “local aim”).

Local well-being plans

37 Local well-being plans

1. A public services board must prepare and publish a plan (a “local well-being plan”) setting out how the board is to pursue the local aim.

2. A local well-being plan must include objectives that are designed to maximise the board’s contribution within its area to the achievement of the well-being goals.

3. The plan may include objectives—

   (a) that are also well-being objectives published under Part 2 by a member of the board;

   (b) that are to be met by the taking of steps—

      (i) by one or more members of the board, invited participants or other partners acting individually, or

      (ii) any combination of members, invited participants or other partners acting jointly.

4. Each board must—

   (a) set well-being objectives for inclusion in its local well-being plan in accordance with the sustainable development principle, and

   (b) take all reasonable steps to meet those objectives in accordance with the sustainable development principle.

5. A local well-being plan must include a statement—

   (a) explaining why each board considers that meeting the objectives will contribute—

      (i) within the area to achieving the well-being goals, and
(ii) in particular to addressing any matters mentioned in the most recent assessment of local well-being published under section 35;

(b) specifying the periods of time within which the board expects to meet the objectives;

(c) explaining how the steps the board proposes to take to meet the objectives are to be taken in accordance with the sustainable development principle;

(d) if the plan includes objectives referred to in subsection (3)(b), specifying the steps to be taken to meet those objectives and, in the case of steps to be taken by a combination of members of the board, invited participants or other partners, the persons making up the combination;

(e) if the plan is not the first plan published by the board, specifying the steps taken to meet the objectives set out in the board’s previous plan and specifying the extent to which those objectives have been met;

(f) providing such other information as the board considers appropriate.

(6) Each board must publish its first local well-being plan no later than one year after the date on which the next ordinary election under section 26 of the Local Government Act 1972 (c. 70) following the commencement of this section is held.

(7) Subsequently, each board must publish a local well-being plan no later than one year after the date on which each subsequent ordinary election under that section is held.

(8) Each board must send a copy of its plan to—

(a) the Welsh Ministers;

(b) the Commissioner;

(c) the Auditor General for Wales;

(d) the local authority’s overview and scrutiny committee.

38 Local well-being plans: sustainable development principle

Applying the sustainable development principle to setting objectives for inclusion in the local well-being plan and taking steps to meet them requires a public services board to take into account—

(a) the importance of balancing short-term needs with the need to safeguard the ability to meet long-term needs, especially where things done to meet short-term needs may have detrimental long-term effect;

(b) the need to take an integrated approach, by considering—

(i) how an objective may impact upon each of the well-being goals and the three aspects of well-being contained in the common aim;

(ii) how each board’s objectives impact upon each other or upon the well-being objectives published under Part 2 by the members of the board individually, in particular where steps taken by the board may contribute to meeting one objective but may be detrimental to meeting another;
(iii) the importance of involving those with an interest in the objectives, by seeking their views and taking them into account;

(c) how acting in collaboration with its invited participants, other partners, other public service boards or other persons could assist in meeting the board’s objectives or the well-being objectives of a member of the board or the well-being objectives of another public service board;

(d) how deploying resources to prevent problems occurring or getting worse may contribute to meeting the board’s objectives or the well-being objectives of a member of the board or the well-being objectives of another public service board.

39 Local well-being plans: role of community councils

(1) A community council must take all reasonable steps in its area towards meeting the objectives included in the local well-being plan that has effect in its area.

(2) But a community council is subject to the duty under subsection (1) only if, for each of the preceding three financial years prior to the local well-being plan for its area being published, either its gross income or its gross expenditure was at least £200,000.

(3) The Welsh Ministers may, by regulations, amend the criteria specified in subsection (2) for determining whether a community council is subject to the duty under subsection (1); and the regulations may reflect provision made about community councils in regulations under section 39 of the Public Audit (Wales) Act 2004 (c.23).

(4) Before making regulations under subsection (3), the Welsh Ministers must consult—

(a) the Commissioner;

(b) the community councils that would become subject to the duty under subsection (1) if the regulations were made;

(c) such other persons as the Welsh Ministers consider appropriate.

(5) A community council must publish, in respect of each financial year in which it was subject to the duty under subsection (1), a report of the progress it has made in its area in meeting the objectives included in the local well-being plan that has effect in its area.

(6) A report under subsection (5) must be published as soon as reasonably practicable following the end of the financial year to which the report relates.

(7) The Welsh Ministers must issue guidance to community councils that are subject to the duty under subsection (1) about the exercise of the duty.

(8) In carrying out the duty under subsection (1), a community council must take such guidance into account.

40 Preparation of local well-being plans: information about activities of others

(1) In preparing its local well-being plan (and before consulting under section 42), a public services board may require any person mentioned in subsection (2) to provide the board with information about any action it takes that may contribute to the pursuit of the local aim.
(2) The persons are—
   (a) the persons invited to participate in the activities of the board, except the Welsh Ministers (see section 28);
   (b) the board’s other partners (see section 30).

(3) But a person mentioned in subsection (2) is not required to provide information to a public services board—
   (a) if the person considers that doing so would—
      (i) be incompatible with the person’s duties, or
      (ii) otherwise have an adverse effect on the exercise of the person’s functions, or
   (b) if the person is prohibited from providing it by virtue of an enactment or any other rule of law.

(4) Where a person mentioned in subsection (2) decides, in reliance on subsection (3)(a), that it is not required to provide information to a public services board, it must provide the board with written reasons for its decision.

41 Preparation of local well-being plans: Commissioner’s advice

(1) In preparing its local well-being plan (and before consulting under section 42), a public services board must seek the advice of the Commissioner on how to take steps to meet the objectives to be included in the plan in accordance with the sustainable development principle.

(2) The Commissioner must give the advice—
   (a) in writing, and
   (b) no later than 14 weeks after it is sought.

(3) Each board must publish the Commissioner’s advice at the same time as it publishes the local well-being plan.

42 Preparation of local well-being plans: further consultation and approval

(1) Before publishing its local well-being plan, a public services board must consult—
   (a) its invited participants;
   (b) its other partners;
   (c) such of the persons who received but did not accept an invitation from the board under section 28 as the board considers appropriate;
   (d) the local authority’s overview and scrutiny committee;
   (e) any relevant voluntary organisation as the board considers appropriate;
   (f) representatives of persons resident in its area;
   (g) representatives of persons carrying on business in its area;
   (h) trade unions representing workers in its area;
   (i) any other persons who, in the opinion of the board, are interested in the improvement of the area’s economic, social and environmental well-being.
As part of the consultation under subsection (1), each board must provide each consultee with a draft local well-being plan.

The consultation under subsection (1) must not end until at least 12 weeks have passed since the day on which it began.

If the local authority is operating executive arrangements under Part 2 of the Local Government Act 2000 (c.22), the function of approving the local well-being plan for publication may not be exercised by an executive of the authority under those arrangements; nor does section 101 of the Local Government Act 1972 (c. 70) (discharge of functions by committees etc.) apply to that function.

In the case of each Local Health Board, each Welsh fire and rescue authority and the Natural Resources Body for Wales, the function of approving the local well-being plan for publication may only be exercised at a meeting of the body in question.

A public services board may review and amend its local well-being plan.

Each board—

(a) must review its local well-being plan if directed to do so by the Welsh Ministers, and

(b) may amend its plan in consequence of such a review.

When giving a direction under subsection (2)(a) the Welsh Ministers must publish a statement containing their reasons for giving it.

Before making an amendment to its plan, each board must consult—

(a) the Commissioner;

(b) the persons mentioned in section 42(1).

An amended plan must be published as soon as reasonably practicable.

A board must send a copy of its amended plan to—

(a) the Welsh Ministers;

(b) the Commissioner;

(c) the Auditor General for Wales;

(d) the local authority’s overview and scrutiny committee.

A public services board must prepare and publish a report—

(a) no later than one year after the publication of its local well-being plan, and

(b) subsequently no later than one year after the publication of each previous report under this section.

But no report is required under subsection (1)(b) if a local well-being plan is to be published by virtue of section 37(7) (publication of new local well-being plan following election) no later than one year after the publication of the previous report under this section.
(3) A report under this section must specify the steps taken since the publication of the board’s most recent local well-being plan to meet the objectives set out in the plan.

(4) A report under this section may contain such other information as the board considers appropriate.

(5) A board must send a copy of each report published under this section to—
   (a) the Welsh Ministers;
   (b) the Commissioner;
   (c) the Auditor General for Wales;
   (d) the local authority’s overview and scrutiny committee.
